

What are the methods for gaining an understanding of users ?

Visit User Locations:

- Go to where users work to understand their environment better.

Talk Directly with Users:

- Have direct conversations with users about their problems, wishes, and what works well for them. Avoid relying on middlemen.

Observe Users in Action:

- Watch users while they work to see what they do, what challenges they face, and what problems they encounter.

Videotape User Activities:

- Record videos of users working to visually study and analyze the problems and difficulties they face.

Learn About the Work Organization:

- Understand the structure and processes of the organization where the system will be used.

Encourage Thinking Aloud:

- Ask users to vocalize their thoughts as they perform tasks to uncover details that may not be expressed otherwise.

What are the methods for gaining an understanding of users ?

Try the Job Yourself:

- Do the users' tasks yourself to experience potential difficulties firsthand.

Use Surveys and Questionnaires:

- Create surveys to collect a larger sample of user opinions and feedback.

Establish Behavioral Goals:

- Define specific, measurable goals to track progress and give management a clear measure of success.
